

SMALL CUSTOMER DOMESTIC AND FAMILY VIOLENCE POLICY

1. Introduction

Stanwell Corporation Limited (Stanwell Energy) is committed to give small customers (affected customers1) who may be affected by family violence an entitlement to safe, supportive and flexible assistance when managing their personal and financial security.

This policy applies to all Stanwell Energy small customers affected by family and domestic violence.

Stanwell employees should refer to Stanwell's Domestic and Family Violence Guide (PEO-WI-07).

2. Definition of "family violence"

Family violence2 is any violent, threatening, or other abusive behaviour by a person against a member of the person's family or household (current/former). This definition includes behaviour that:

- Is physically or sexually abusive; or
- Is emotionally or psychologically abusive; or
- Is economically abusive; or
- ➤ Is threatening; or
- Is coercive; or

In any other way controls or dominates the family member and causes that family member to feel fear for the safety or wellbeing of that family member of another person; or causes a child to witness, or otherwise be exposed to the effects of such behaviour.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The term "affected customers" has a meaning defined under Part 1, Division 1 of the National Energy Retail Rules to mean any customer, including a former customer of a retailer, who is or was a small customer and who may be affected by family violence.

Family violence can affect people of all cultures, religions, ages, genders, sexual orientations, educational background, and income levels – it is non-discriminatory.

3. How we will help you

Our team is trained to provide affected customers with support that is tailored to their particular circumstances. We are committed to:

- provide affected customers with assistance in line with this policy and the relevant regulations;
- Identify and engage appropriately and effectively, being sensitive and respectful of customer circumstances;
- understand the nature and consequences of family and domestic violence:
- ensure customers' confidential information3 and personal details are secure including from joint account holders;
- agree on a safe method of communication with you and keep a record of arrangements reached.
- ensure secure processes are in place so customers avoid having to repeatedly disclose or refer to their experience of family violence;
- recognise family violence as a potential cause of payment difficulty and take into account the impact of debt recovery action on affected customers.
- We will only seek documentary evidence of family violence when considering debt management and recovery, or restrictions on disconnection.
- Provide affected customers with information on the availability of external family violence support services (see section 4 of this policy) in a manner that is safe, respectful and appropriate given customer circumstances and also publish this information on our website

We encourage customers having difficulty paying their electricity usage bills affected by family violence to contact us at 1800 300 351 for a confidential discussion on ways in which assistance can be provided.

&lt;sup>3</sup> Refers to any information that may be used to identify/locate an affected customer, including information about their whereabouts, contact details, or financial or personal circumstances.
